

UpLevel Solopreneurs & Personal Brands

You're up to big things! You've created content, services, and experiences you want to share with the world to help people expand awareness and create deep, sustainable transformation. You subscribe to the philosophy that we are here to UpLevel. You are called to be a Leader of this movement and are committed to "doing the work" on the soul-line to create the goal-line reality you desire and deserve. You understand no Leader "goes it alone," and you know having a supportive and experienced champion in your corner is a wise and necessary investment to allow you to take your mission to the next level.

At UpLevel Productions, working with dynamic, courageous leaders like you is our sweet spot! We'll coach you through the places where you are stuck, and we'll provide you with mentoring and guidance in the brass-tack areas that have been holding you back; (think marketing/launching an event/service, social media activation, publishing, growing your clientele, etc). We help you achieve your goal through a series of 1:1 coaching sessions and consulting services that connect you to a team of tired, trusted, and true UpLevel Experts to bring your vision to reality.

"Christie Mann is a powerful coach. With just one question, she can stop you in your tracks and evoke incredible insight and clarity that for weeks I couldn't manage on my own! She gave me an inner edge, courage, and confidence in who I am and what I stand for. Through her coaching, I was able to honor my values and make a huge change to my life that I had been delaying until that point. I wouldn't be the woman I am, the leader I am without that support in such a crucial time."
